

Teaching Persuasive Speaking and History with Documents: Declaration of War on Japan and Justice Will Be Done

Grade Level or Special Area: 7th Grade Language Arts/History

Written by: Caroline Ruppert Tuiolosega, Aurora Academy Charter School, Aurora, CO

Length of Unit: Eleven fifty-five minute lessons

I. ABSTRACT

This unit gives a brief background to Roosevelt’s speech Declaration of War on Japan and a brief background to George W. Bush’s speech Justice Will Be Done. Students are introduced to a few literary terms and are guided through an analysis and comparison of the characteristics of the two pieces. Finally, students develop strategies for persuasive speaking in order to articulate one excerpt from either speech.

II. OVERVIEW

C. Skill Objectives

1. Examine historical writings for point of view, historical context... (Colorado Benchmark for 7th Grade History)
2. Recognize an author’s point of view and purpose. (Colorado Benchmark for 7th Grade Reading and Writing)
3. Demonstrate knowledge of geography of ... the world in relation to the major events of World War II [and the War on Terrorism]. (Colorado Benchmark for 7th Grade Geography)
4. Evaluate strengths and identify areas for improvement in peer performance. (Colorado Benchmark for 7th and 8th Grade Theatre)
5. Compare and contrast texts with similar characters, plots, and/or themes. (Colorado Benchmark for 7th Grade Reading and Writing)
6. Determine the main idea or essential message in a text. (Colorado Benchmark for 7th Grade Reading and Writing)
7. [Students] ... analyze what they read, hear, and view. (Colorado Benchmark for 7th Grade Reading and Writing)
8. Students... speak for a variety of purposes and audiences. (Colorado Standard 2 for Reading and Writing)

9. Students know how to use and construct maps, globes and other geographic tools to locate and derive information about people, places, and environments. (Colorado Standard 1 for Geography)
10. Students read and understand a variety of materials. (Colorado Standard 1 for Reading and Writing)
11. Students apply thinking skills to their reading, writing, speaking, listening, and viewing. (Colorado Standard 4 for Reading and Writing)
12. Students...speak using conventional grammar, usage, sentence structure, punctuation, capitalization, and spelling. (Colorado Standard 3 for Reading and Writing)

III. BACKGROUND KNOWLEDGE

- A. For Teachers
 1. Some understanding of events that led to the bombing of Pearl Harbor. War, Peace and All That Jazz, Book 9 gives a thorough background. Refer to Appendix A: Background of Declaration of War on Japan for highlights.
 2. Some understanding of events that led to the attacks on 9-11. Taliban: Militant Islam; Oil and Fundamentalism in Central Asia gives a thorough background. Refer to Appendix F: Background to Justice Will Be Done for highlights.
- B. For Students
 1. Students will have acquired the skills necessary for competent spelling, and usage of a dictionary to check and correct words that present difficulty. (Grade 5)
 2. Students will have the understanding of how to use a topic sentence, how to develop a paragraph with examples and details, as well as the mechanics of the writing process. (Grade 4)
 3. Ideally, this unit should be taught after students have studied World War II (7th Grade, pages 165-166 from Core Knowledge Sequence.)

IV. RESOURCES

- A. Audio recording of Roosevelt's Declaration of War on Japan. (On line: www.wwnorton.com/eamerica/site_av.htm) (Lesson Three)
- B. The Declaration of George W. Bush – September 20, 2001. [VHS Tape] (Available at most major video outlets.) (Lesson Six)

V. LESSONS

Lesson One: Analyzing Declaration of War on Japan (two fifty-five minute sessions)

(This lesson is adapted from Teaching With Documents Lesson Plan: "A Date Which Will Live in Infamy" – The First Typed Draft of Franklin D. Roosevelt's War Address.)

- A. Daily Objectives
 1. Concept Objective(s)
 - a. [Develop an awareness] of the international background of World War II [and of the War on Terrorism].
 - b. [Understand] positions about how United States foreign policy is made and the means by which it is carried out.
 - c. Determine and understand how literary techniques, voice, expression and gestures are employed to move a speech.
 - d. Develop strategies for persuasive speaking in order to articulate a persuasive speech.
 2. Lesson Content
 - a. Pearl Harbor, December 7, 1941: "A day that will live in infamy."
 - b. Declaration of War on Japan by Franklin D. Roosevelt

3. Skill Objective(s)
 - a. Examine historical writings for point of view, historical context...
 - b. Recognize an author's point of view and purpose.
 - c. Demonstrate knowledge of geography of ... the world in relation to the major events of World War II [and the War on Terrorism].
 - d. Recognize an author's point of view and purpose.
 - e. [Students] ... analyze what they read, hear, and view.
 - f. Students know how to use and construct maps, globes and other geographic tools to locate and derive information about people, places, and environments.
 - g. Students read and understand a variety of materials.
 - h. Students apply thinking skills to their reading, writing, speaking, listening, and viewing.
- B. Materials
 1. Appendix A: Background of Declaration of War on Japan (one per student)
 2. Appendix B: Declaration of War on Japan Word Account (one per student)
 3. Appendix C: Analyzing Declaration of War on Japan Worksheet (one per student)
 4. Appendix D: Mapping Japan's Attacks (one per student)
 5. Appendix N: Answer Keys
 6. Draft of Declaration of War on Japan-can be found in various text books e.g. Realms of Gold Volume Two, or a photocopy of the original speech read by Roosevelt on-line at: www.archives.gov/exhibit_hall/american_originals/fdr.html (one per student)
 7. Map of Southeast Asia and Oceania-this can be found in any atlas (one per student)
 8. Colored pencils
- C. Key Vocabulary
 1. Perfidies – violations of loyalty
 2. Infamy – an act with a grossly shocking reputation
 3. Solicitation – urgent request
 4. Diplomatic – relating to the practice of dealing with people or with international relations
 5. Repetition – a technique used in speech in which the speaker repeats himself
 6. Emotionally Charged Words – words that express intense feelings (e.g. love, hate, or despair)
 7. Self-preservation – protecting one self
 8. Moral superiority – the viewpoint that one is right or noble
- D. Procedures/Activities
 1. Give students each a copy of Appendix B: Declaration of War on Japan Word Account. As a class, define each of the eight vocabulary words and literary terms from Key Vocabulary above. On Appendix B: Declaration of War on Japan Word Account, instruct students to write each syllable of these eight words in a different color e.g. black, purple, green, orange, and brown. To the left of each word, have students draw a representation of their word. For example, a picture of a stick dog running away from a stick figure could be a representation of the word perfidies. Artistic ability is not necessary here – any picture representation will do!
 2. Read over Appendix A: Background of Declaration of War on Japan together.
 3. Read Declaration of War on Japan aloud as a class.

4. Place students in groups of three. Have students complete Appendix C: Analyzing Declaration of War on Japan Worksheet. Also, provide students with a map of Southeast Asia and Oceania so they can complete Appendix D: Mapping Japan's Attacks.
 5. Using the questions from Appendix C: Analyzing Declaration of War on Japan Worksheet lead a class discussion.
- E. Assessment/Evaluation
1. Appendix C: Analyzing Declaration of War on Japan Worksheet. This worksheet is weighed at twenty points. (See Appendix N: Answer Keys for answers to this worksheet.) In all, two hundred and sixty-two points can be earned in this unit. Two-thirds of these points can be earned on the various worksheets and activities that are worth from five to twenty-four points each. One-third of the points can be earned on the end of unit test. Simply convert the points earned divided by the total points – two hundred and sixty-two – to a percentage to figure individual grades.
 2. Appendix D: Mapping Japan's Attacks. This assignment is weighed at 20 points.

Lesson Two: Analyzing Changes made to Declaration of War on Japan (one fifty-five minute sessions)

(This lesson is adapted from Teaching With Documents Lesson Plan: "A Date Which Will Live in Infamy" – The First Typed Draft of Franklin D. Roosevelt's War Address.)

A. Daily Objectives

1. Concept Objective(s)
 - a. [Develop an awareness] of the international background of World War II [and of the War on Terrorism].
 - b. [Understand] positions about how United States foreign policy is made and the means by which it is carried out.
 - c. Determine and understand how literary techniques, voice, expression and gestures are employed to move a speech.
 - d. Develop strategies for persuasive speaking in order to articulate a persuasive speech.
2. Lesson Content
 - a. Declaration of War on Japan by Franklin D. Roosevelt
3. Skill Objective(s)
 - a. Examine historical writings for point of view, historical context...
 - b. Recognize an author's point of view and purpose.
 - c. Recognize an author's point of view and purpose.
 - d. [Students] ... analyze what they read, hear, and view.
 - e. Students read and understand a variety of materials.
 - f. Students apply thinking skills to their reading, writing, speaking, listening, and viewing.

B. Materials

1. Appendix B: Declaration of War on Japan Word Account (one per student)
2. Draft of Declaration of War on Japan-can be found in various text books e.g. Realms of Gold Volume Two, or a photocopy of the original speech read by Roosevelt on-line at: www.archives.gov/exhibit_hall/american_originals/fdr.html (one per student)
3. Annotated version of the original draft of Declaration of War on Japan can be found on-line at: http://www.archives.gov/digital_classroom/lessons/day_of_infamy/images/infamy_address_1.gif (one per student)

- C. Key Vocabulary
1. Commenced – began
 2. Intervening – coming between two points
 3. Premeditated – to plan beforehand
 4. Treachery – violation of trust
 5. Hostilities – war
 6. Implications – involvements
 7. Dastardly – cowardly
 8. Unbounding - unlimited
- D. Procedures/Activities
1. Have students refer to their copy of Appendix B: Declaration of War on Japan Word Account. As a class, define each of the eight vocabulary words from Key Vocabulary above. On Appendix B: Declaration of War on Japan Word Account, instruct students to write each syllable of these eight words in a different color e.g. black, purple, green, orange, and brown. To the left of each word, have students draw a representation of their word. For example, a picture of a stick dog running away from a stick figure could be a representation of the word perfidies. Artistic ability is not necessary here – any picture representation will do!
 2. Give each student an annotated version of the original draft of Declaration of War on Japan. (This can be found at: http://www.archives.gov/digital_classroom/lessons/day_of_infamy/images/infamy_address_1.gif.) Considering the audiences that students have identified from question eight on Appendix C: Declaration of War on Japan Worksheet, ask students to select three handwritten changes to the original draft of the speech. Have students explain how these changes either strengthened or weakened the message to the audiences that they have identified. One key change that Roosevelt made was in his opening line. Originally, it read, "...a date which will live in world history." By changing world history to infamy the speech is strengthened because the word infamy expresses the shock and outrage towards Japan's attack whereas world history is a neutral term.
 3. Lead a class discussion on what students thought about the handwritten changes made to Roosevelt's speech.
- E. Assessment/Evaluation
1. Check to see that students did choose three changes made to Roosevelt's original draft and that students commented on these changes. Assign five points to this check.

Lesson Three: Analyzing a Sound Recording of Declaration of War on Japan (one fifty-five minute session)

- A. Daily Objectives
1. Concept Objective(s)
 - a. [Understand] positions about how United States foreign policy is made and the means by which it is carried out.
 - b. Determine and understand how literary techniques, voice, expression, and gestures are employed to move a speech.
 - c. Develop strategies for persuasive speaking in order to articulate a persuasive speech
 2. Lesson Content
 - a. Declaration of War on Japan by Franklin D. Roosevelt

3. Skill Objective(s)
 - a. Examine historical writings for point of view, historical context...
 - b. Recognize an author's point of view and purpose.
 - c. Recognize an author's point of view and purpose.
 - d. [Students] ... analyze what they read, hear, and view.
 - e. Students apply thinking skills to their reading, writing, speaking, listening, and viewing.

- B. Materials
 1. Appendix B: Declaration of War on Japan Word Account (one per student)
 2. Audio recording of Roosevelt's Declaration of War on Japan. (On line: www.wwnorton.com/eamerica/site_av.htm)
 3. Appendix E: Sound Recording of Declaration of War on Japan Worksheet (one per student)
 4. Appendix N: Answer Keys

- C. Key Vocabulary
 1. Tone – style or manner which expresses an emotion
 2. Mood – feeling
 3. Delivery – way of speaking
 4. Pitch – highness or lowness of sound
 5. Pace – rate or speed
 6. Uttermost – extreme; of the greatest amount
 7. Mincing – to cut into small pieces
 8. Inevitable - unavoidable

- D. Procedures/Activities
 1. Have students refer to their copy of Appendix B: Declaration of War on Japan Word Bank. As a class, define each of the eight vocabulary words and literary terms from Key Vocabulary above. On Appendix B: Declaration of War on Japan Word Account, instruct students to write each syllable of these eight words in a different color e.g. black, purple, green, orange, and brown. To the left of each word, have students draw a representation of their word. For example, a picture of a stick dog running away from a stick figure could be a representation of the word perfidies. Artistic ability is not necessary here – any picture representation will do!
 2. Give students a copy of Appendix E: Analyzing a Sound Recording of Declaration of War on Japan Worksheet. Read over the worksheet together. As a class, define Key Vocabulary along with any unfamiliar vocabulary on the handout. Have students complete the Pre-listening questions before listening to the speech.
 3. Listen to the recording.
 4. Have students complete Appendix E: Sound Recording of Declaration of War on Japan Worksheet.
 5. Using the questions from Appendix E: Sound Recording of Declaration of War on Japan Worksheet lead a class discussion.

- E. Assessment/Evaluation
 1. Appendix E: Sound Recording of Declaration of War on Japan Worksheet. This assignment is weighed at 20 points. (See Appendix N: Answer Keys for answers to this worksheet.)

Lesson Four: Background to Justice Will Be Done (one fifty-five minute session)

A. Daily Objectives

1. Concept Objective(s)
 - a. [Develop an awareness] of the international background of World War II [and of the War on Terrorism].
 - b. [Understand] positions about how United States foreign policy is made and the means by which it is carried out.
2. Lesson Content
 - a. The Middle East...
3. Skill Objective(s)

On Appendix H: Justice Will Be Done Word Account, instruct students to write each syllable of these eight words in a different color

- e.g. black, purple, green, orange, and brown. To the left of each word, have students draw a representation of their word. For example, a picture of judge's gavel could be a representation of the word resolution. Artistic ability is not necessary here – any picture representation will do!
2. Give students a copy of Appendix J: Video Recording of Justice Will Be Done Worksheet. Read over the worksheet together. Have students complete the Pre-viewing questions before watching the video.
 3. View The Declaration of George W. Bush – September 20, 2001. [VHS Tape] (This is available at most major video outlets.)
 4. Have students complete Appendix J: Video Recording of Justice Will Be Done Worksheet.
 5. Using the questions from Appendix J: Video Recording of Justice Will Be Done Worksheet lead a class discussion.
- E. Assessment/Evaluation
1. Appendix J: Video Recording of Justice Will Be Done Worksheet weighed at twenty points. (See Appendix N: Answer Keys for answers to this worksheet.)

Lesson Seven: Comparing and Contrasting Declaration of War on Japan to Justice Will Be done (one fifty-five minute session)

- A. Daily Objectives
1. Concept Objective(s)
 - a. Determine and understand how literary techniques, voice, expression, and gestures are employed to move a speech.
 - b. Develop strategies for persuasive speaking in order to articulate a persuasive speech.
 2. Lesson Content
 - a. Declaration of War on Japan by Franklin D. Roosevelt
 3. Skill Objective(s)
 - a. Examine historical writings for point of view, historical context...
 - b. Compare and contrast texts with similar characters, plots, and/or themes.
 - c. [Students] ... analyze what they read, hear, and view.
 - d. Students apply thinking skills to their reading, writing, speaking, listening, and viewing.
- B. Materials
1. Appendix H: Justice Will Be Done Word Account (one per student)
 2. Appendix K: Compare and Contrast Declaration of War on Japan to Justice Will Be Done
- C. Key Vocabulary
1. Totalitarianism – system of government in which there is only one controlling political party and in which no other political groups are allowed
 2. Diplomacy – management of relations between nations
 3. Pluralism – “a condition of society in which numerous distinct ethnic, religious, or cultural groups coexist within one nation” (American Heritage Dictionary)
- D. Procedures/Activities
1. Have students refer to their copy of Appendix H: Declaration of War on Japan Word Account. As a class, define each of the three vocabulary words from Key Vocabulary above. On Appendix H: Justice Will Be Done Word Account, instruct students to write each syllable of these eight words in a different color e.g. black, purple, green, orange, and brown. To the left of each word, have students draw a representation of their word. For example, a picture of judge's

- gavel could be a representation of the word resolution. Artistic ability is not necessary here – any picture representation will do!
2. Give each student a copy of Appendix K: Compare and Contrast Declaration of War on Japan to Justice Will Be Done. Read through instructions with students asking them to compare and contrast Roosevelt’s speech to Bush’s speech. Also, have students choose which speech they thought was most effective and why. Finally, have them make a list of 10 characteristics that make an effective speech. Give students time to work on assignment in class and/or assign as homework.
- E. Assessment/Evaluation
1. Use Appendix K: Compare and Contrast Declaration of War on Japan to Justice Will Be Done.

Lesson Eight: Stand Up And Deliver (one to two fifty-five minute sessions)

- A. Daily Objectives
1. Concept Objective(s)
 - a. Determine and understand how literary techniques, voice, expression, and gestures are employed to move a speech.
 - b. Develop strategies for persuasive speaking in order to articulate a persuasive speech.
 2. Lesson Content
 - a. Declaration of War on Japan by Franklin D. Roosevelt
 3. Skill Objective(s)
 - a. Evaluate strengths and identify areas for improvement in peer performance.
 - b. Students ... speak for a variety of purposes and audiences.
 - c. Students apply thinking skills to their reading, writing, speaking, listening, and viewing.
 - d. Students...speak using conventional grammar, usage, sentence structure, punctuation, capitalization, and spelling.
- B. Materials
1. Appendix L: Sample Peer Evaluation
- C. Key Vocabulary
- None
- D. Procedures/Activities
1. Begin session by discussing the ten characteristics that students identified as making an effective persuasive speech. List their top choices on the board or overhead.
 2. Have students randomly pick Roosevelt or Bush’s speech so that there is a balance of students presenting on both documents.
 3. Have students pick one excerpt from the speech they picked to present as though they are the actual speakers. Students do not need to memorize the entire excerpt, but they should memorize their opening and closing line so that they are beginning and ending their speech by looking at their audience. Their speech should be no shorter than one minute and no longer than two minutes. Their peers will evaluate them on their performance. An average score of the evaluations completed by their peers will be calculated for their grade on this assignment. Remind students that practice makes perfect, and that a key ingredient in performing well will be based on whether or not they have adequately practiced their speech. Suggest to students that they read the speech aloud to a small audience of peers or to themselves in a mirror.

4. Create a rubric for peer evaluations based on the characteristics students identified from step one above. Some key items include: poise, confidence, eye contact, voice volume, pitch, rate, and appropriate emotional level. See Appendix L: Sample Peer Evaluation.
- E. Assessment/Evaluation
1. Students deliver an excerpt, one to two minutes long, from Declaration of War on Japan or Justice Will Be Done. Students will be evaluated by their peers. See Appendix L: Sample Peer Evaluation.

Appendix A

Background of Declaration of War on Japan

- 1929 Stock market crash: Great Depression begins (some causes: overproduction – more was produced than could be bought; wages were low; bank failures – investors could not repay loans when stock market crashed)
- 1932 FDR elected (FDR grew up in a privileged family in New York, but his life wasn't easy; he contracted polio in 1921 and was crippled by the disease)
- 1933 New Deal begins (three goals: relief for unemployed, plans for recovery, reforms to prevent another depression)
- 1935 First Neutrality Act (U.S. sympathized with Poles, Finns, French, and British but did not want to be drawn into the war)

December 7, 1941

Japanese bombing of Pearl Harbor
Early in the afternoon of December 7, 1941, President Franklin D. Roosevelt and his chief foreign policy aide, Harry Hopkins, were interrupted by a telephone call from Secretary of War Henry Stimson and told that the Japanese had attacked Pearl Harbor. At about 5:00 p.m., following meetings with his military advisers, the President calmly and decisively dictated to his secretary, Grace Tully, a request to Congress for a declaration of war. He had composed the speech in his head after deciding on a brief, uncomplicated appeal to the people of the United States rather than a thorough recitation of Japanese perfidies, as Secretary of State Cordell Hull had urged.

President Roosevelt then revised the typed draft—marking it up, updating military information, and selecting alternative wordings that strengthened the tone of the speech. He made the most significant change in the critical first line, which originally read, "a date which will live in world history." Grace Tully then prepared the final reading copy, which Roosevelt subsequently altered in three more places.

On December 8, at 12:30 p.m., Roosevelt addressed a joint session of Congress and the Nation via radio. The Senate responded with a unanimous vote in support of war; only Montana pacifist Jeanette Rankin dissented in the House. At 4:00 p.m. that same afternoon, President Roosevelt signed the declaration of war.

Roosevelt misplaced his reading copy immediately following the speech; it remained missing for 43 years. Instead of bringing the reading copy back to the White House for Grace Tully to file, the President evidently left it in the House chamber, where he had given the address. A Senate clerk took charge of it, endorsed it "Dec 8, 1941, Read in joint session," and filed it. In March 1984 an archivist located the reading copy among the Records of the U.S. Senate, Record Group 46, located in the National Archives building, where it remains today.

Appendix F

Background of Justice Will Be Done

Terrorism: Generally applied to acts of violence and intimidation carried out in order to achieve political goals. The origin of the word terrorism traces back to the Reign of Terror in France in the 1790's. The newly established republican state used violence to destroy anyone who opposed its rule.

1986

- CIA Chief William Casey steps up war against Soviets in Afghanistan by: 1. providing weapons, 2. providing training to guerrillas in Afghanistan, and 3. supporting a Pakistani initiative to recruit radical Muslims from around the world to come to Pakistan and help the fight.

1982-1992

- 35,000 Muslim radicals go to Afghanistan to study, train, and fight, the wealthy Osama Bin Laden being one of the recruits. Most recruits were economically poorer being students, taxi drivers, and tribesmen. Osama was considered to be royalty by his colleagues and emerged as a leader as he was willing to put both his money and his physical self to the cause. Camps near the Afghanistan border become virtual universities for future Islamic radicalism. [Former U.S. National Security Advisor, Zbigniew Brzezinski commented, "What was more important in the world view of history? The Taliban or the fall of the Soviet Empire? A few stirred-up Muslims or the liberation of Central Europe and the end of the Cold War?" (Rashid, p.3)]

1993

- Afghanistan-trained Islamic militants set off explosives in the World Trade Center in New York, killing six people and injuring 1000.

- Saudi Royal Family revokes Bin Laden’s citizenship for his criticism of the Royal Family allowing non-Muslims (Americans) in the country during the Gulf War. (However, the Saudis continued to support the Taliban, and were silent on the need to bring Bin Laden to trial for crimes. Pakistan was also uncertain in its position on Bin Laden. Although the U.S. and Pakistan consider themselves to be allies, the Taliban and Bin Laden both provided sanctuary and training facilities for Kashmiri militants fighting for land against India who were backed by Pakistan.)
- Sudanese authorities ask Bin Laden to leave their country.

- Bin Laden moves back to Afghanistan.
- U.S. State Department report noted Osama Bin Laden as “one of the most significant financial sponsors of Islamic extremist activities in the world.”
- U.S. Anti-Terrorist Act is passed allowing U.S. to block assets of terrorist organizations. (For example, bank accounts that are found to be owned by terrorists can be made inactive. Their owners can’t take any money out of their account!)

1997

- Osama Bin Laden is under the protection of the Taliban.
- CIA tries, but fails to get Bin Laden out of Afghanistan.
- Bombings of U.S. Embassies in Kenya and Tanzania. Two hundred and twenty people are killed.
- Seventy cruise missiles are fired in retaliation at camps in Afghanistan.
- United States offers $5 million reward for Bin Laden’s capture, and a U.S. global effort to arrest Islamic militants.
- Indian authorities detain Bangladeshi militants (some who trained and fought in Afghanistan and who were funded by Bin Laden) for plotting to bomb the U.S. Consulate in Calcutta.

- Mauritania, West Africa: several militants were arrested who had also trained under Bin Laden and were suspected of plotting bomb explosions.

October 12, 2000

- USS Cole terrorist attack in Aden, Yemen – 17 Sailors were killed and 39 were injured.

9-11, 2002

- Two hijacked airplanes crash into World Trade Center. Both towers collapse.
- The Pentagon is crashed into by a hijacked plane. A portion of the Pentagon collapses.
- A hijacked plane crashes in Pennsylvania.
- Thousands of lives are ended.

September 29, 2001

- President Bush gives his address.
- Comment by Ron Kurtis on Bush's address:
"... It was an outstanding speech, delivered with emotion and conviction. Journalists and historians have rated it as one of the greatest speeches made.

The speech was written with the help of President Bush's chief speechwriter Michael Gerson and his team of writers. Compared with Bush's earlier speeches, it is apparent that the writers finally found the President's exact sound, including the words and phrases he normally uses and the rhythm of his conversation."

Appendix C: Analyzing Declaration of War on Japan Worksheet

1. “Last night Japanese forces attacked...”
“Our people, our territory, and our interests...”
Repeated use of the word deliberately
2. hostilities, grave, danger, deliberate, lives have been lost, triumph, determination, dastardly
3. “There is no blinking at the fact that our people, our territory and our interests are in grave danger.”
“The people of the United States...well understand the implications to the very life and safety of our nation.”
4. “...the American people in their righteous might will win through to absolute victory.”
5. 1.) The Japanese attack was unprovoked and deliberate. Retaliation is, therefore, righteous.
2.) The people, land, military and interests of the United States are in danger.
3.) The United States will triumph!
6. 1.) Congress of the United States
2.) The American people
3.) The U.S. Armed Forces
7. 1.) Congress – know that this declaration is justified and be confident that the nation will prevail; request to declare war on Japan
2.) American people – know that this declaration is justified and be confident that the nation will prevail
3.) The U.S. Armed Forces – be ready to act; “All measures have been taken for our defense.”
8. Are the Japanese headed for the mainland? Should we expect more attacks from Japan?

3. U.S. Capitol, Washington, D.C.
4. serious; grave
5. He is outraged, yet confident and focused in his mission.
6. Spoken. Roosevelt’s outrage and feeling of righteousness is conveyed by his voice. (Any supported answer is acceptable.)
7. Roosevelt’s delivery of Declaration of War on Japan is loud and clear, making it easy to hear. Roosevelt varies his pitch – lowering it when he speaks of lives lost. He pauses frequently, and slows when speaking to Congress, asking for support.
8. 1.) The Japanese attack was deliberate and unprovoked.
2.) The U.S. is in grave danger.
3.) U.S. forces and people are strong and must triumph!

Appendix I: Analyzing Justice Will Be Done Worksheet

1. “We have seen...”
“Whether we bring our enemies to justice, or bring justice to our enemies, justice will be done.”
“I will not...”
“We will come together...”
2. justice, freedom, condemn, anger, enemies, brutalized, grief, wound

3. *"Americans have known surprise attacks, but never on thousands of civilians."
"Freedom and fear are at war."
"The advance of freedom, the great achievement of our time and the great hope of every time, now depends on us."*
4. *"All of this was brought upon us in a single day, and night fell on a different world..."
"...will lift the dark threat of violence..."
"Some will carry memories of a face and a voice gone forever."*
5. *"...[Terrorists] follow in the path of fascism, Nazism and totalitarianism."
"...I will not relent in waging this struggle for freedom and security for the American people."*
6. *"Freedom and fear, justice and cruelty, have always been at war, and we know God is not neutral between them."
"...we'll meet violence with patient justice, assured of the rightness of our cause..."*
7. There are many examples; here are two:
*"...In the normal course of events, presidents come to this chamber to report on the State of the Union. Tonight, no such report is needed. It has already been delivered by the American people."
"Women are not allowed to attend school. You can be jailed for owning a television. Religion can be practiced only as their leaders dictate. A man can be jailed in Afghanistan if his beard is not long enough."*
8.
 - 1.) Acknowledges support from other countries.
 - 2.) This war will differ from past wars in its nature.
 - 3.) America is righteous in its cause.
 - 4.) All Muslims are not radicals. To the contrary, Islam is a peaceful religion.
 - 5.) The U.S. will not negotiate with the Taliban; they simply must comply or face military force.
9.
 - 1.) American people
 - 2.) Congress
 - 3.) The world
 - 4.) The Taliban
 - 5.) Muslims
 - 6.) U.S. Military
10.
 - 1.) American people – Americans should expect a lengthy campaign; they should continue to support victims of the attack; they should cooperate with authorities; return to their normal routines.
 - 2.) Congress – Thanks for support
 - 3.) The world – Thanks to allies (e.g. Great Britain and South Korea); you are either with or against us; this is a world's fight for civilization.
 - 4.) The Taliban – Deliver leaders of Al Qaeda; release foreign nationals; protect American citizens; close training camps; turn over terrorists; no negotiations.
 - 5.) Muslims – The U.S. government sees the difference between radicals and you.
 - 6.) U.S. Military – Be ready.

4. The mood is solemn and determined.
5. He has a clear mission and is confident and resolved in its positive outcome. He has the overwhelming support of the U.S. congress.

6. Spoken. The emotion expressed in President Bush's eyes and in his voice is powerful. The overwhelming enthusiasm of the crowd present is also moving. (Any supported answer is acceptable.)
7. He pauses frequently. The pace, pitch and volume all vary making the speech easy to listen to. This variation also helps emphasize key points. For example, when President Bush is telling the background to the attacks he speaks relatively quickly, but when he mentions lives lost he pauses showing respect.
8. President Bush frequently pauses and looks directly at his audience. He uses his hands to emphasize critical points in his speech.
