Lyrics of “Answering a Question” from Core Knowledge Social Skills CD:

I’m listening to the question with my mouth closed
‘Cause if I’m talking, I won’t hear how it goes.
I’m listening to the question with my mouth closed—
Yodaleedalodaodallylay!

I’m thinking about the question in my head.
I think I know it and it hasn’t been said.
I’m thinking about the question in my head—
Yodaleedalodaodallylay!

I’m going to raise my hand and look at the teacher.
This is grand. This is great, great, great!
I’m going to raise my hand and look at the teacher and wait.....wait, wait, wait, (deep breath) and wait!

“Cathy?”

I’m answering the question. Now it’s my turn.
There’re a lot of things that I have learned.
I’m answering the question, Now it’s my turn—
Yodaleedalodaodallylay!

I don’t have to think of me.
My turn will come eventually.
I’m listening to Bo
And when he’s done, I’ll know
It’s time to take my turn.

Oh, I’m going to sit or stand where I am . . .
“I will wait my turn, I will wait my turn.”
Watch until I’m told I can Take my turn.

Chorus in Spanish

Sometimes if it takes too long
I can go and choose something else to do.
Take a breath, I know I can . . .
Wait my turn.

First I listen to the directions.
Then I whisper them to myself.
If I don’t get it, I’ll ask a question.
Then get ready and follow directions.

Are you staying still and waiting until
You’ve heard the whole direction?

Did you whisper what was said or say it in your head this time?

Did you raise your hand if you don’t understand a word or correction?

If you follow these steps—1, 2, 3
Listen to preps—do re mi
You’ll do fine!

Chorus

I’m in circle time and I’m listening to my teacher,
Talking about spiders and other wiggly creatures.
She’s talking kind of fast—Arachnids?
I don’t understand.

I’ve got a question. I’ve got something to say.
I’ve got it in my head. I made it up that way.
I’ve got a question. I’ve got my question planned.
I’m looking at my teacher, now I’ll raise my hand.
“Yes, Dorey?”
“Mrs. Hickleman, what’s an arachnid?”

I’m sitting at the table,
Working on my letters.
“A” is looking good, but “B” could be better.
I get to letter “G”—I can’t remember how to make it—
I don’t understand.

I’ve got a question. I’ve got something to say.
I’ve got it in my head. I made it up that way.
I’ve got a question. I’ve got my question planned.
I’m looking at my teacher, now I’ll raise my hand.
“Yes, Josh?”
“Mrs. Hickleman, how do you make the letter “’G’?”

Lyrics of “Asking for Help” from Core Knowledge Social Skills CD:

Do I need help right now?
Do I need help right now?
I’ll try it myself
And if I still need help
Then I can—
Look at my teacher now.
Look at my teacher now.
I’ll raise my hand.
She’ll call on me and
Then I’ll say . . .
“Please, I need help,”

4. (Teachers will need to teach students what the “signal” is.)

Oh, how I love to play dress-up. I can choose what I want to be. Today, I’ll be a pirate And sail away on the sea. I’ll put on a patch That covers my eye, And put on a pirate hat, And a coat with gold buttons I’ll put on last—Oh!!! These buttons are hard to fasten, So hard to fasten. I don’t know if I Can get them, but I’ll try again. These buttons are hard to fasten, So hard to fasten. I’ll walk up to my teacher And wait to get her signal—“Cathy, what do you need to get you up to speed?” “Please, may I have help? Please, may I have help with these buttons?”

Oh, how I love painting. I can paint whatever I see. Today, I’ll paint a flower And paint it right next to a tree. I’ll make the blossom, A bright, bright pink. The center, I’ll paint blue. And last of all, I’ll add some green. Oh, this green paint is hard to open, so hard to open. I don’t know if I Can get it, but I’ll try again. This green paint is hard to open, So hard to open. I’ll walk up to my teacher and wait to get her signal—“Cathy, thanks for waiting. What will you be needing?” “Please, may I have help? Please, may I have help with this paint?”

Oh, how I love doing puzzles. Puzzles they make me grin. First I’ll dump out the pieces And then fit the pieces back in. Now this piece goes here and that piece goes there, And this one right on the top. And this crooked piece goes right underneath. Oh, this piece is hard to fit in, so hard to fit in. I don’t know if I can get it, but I’ll try again. “Hey I got it... I didn’t even need help... I did it myself!”

Lyrics of “Ignoring Distractions” from Core Knowledge Social Skills CD:

I’m sitting in a circle, trying to listen to Miss Kate.
Henry’s right beside me, whispering “Hey Heidi!”
I think it’s hard to concentrate.

What could you do if this happened to you?
What could you think to say?
What could you do if this happened to you?
Turn away, turn away,
Or if you need it, ask for help.
Or, walk away, walk away,
And go do something else.

I’d have to say I’d walk away.

I’m playing with the airplanes.
Will is playing with his truck.
He’s driving his truck around,
Making a real loud sound.
Things have really gone amuck.

Chorus

Hocus pocus!
Focus! Focus!
Hocus pocus!
Focus on your teacher, focus on your work!
Don’t focus on the thing that makes you go berserk!

Instrumental

Chorus

Hocus pocus!
Focus! Focus!
Hocus pocus!
Focus on your teacher, Focus on your work!
Don’t focus on the thing that makes you go berserk!

Core Knowledge Social Skills

Lyrics of “Using Brave Talk” from Core Knowledge Social Skills CD:

I’m building with blocks and I’ve made a town,
Little houses in a row.
Dameon comes up and he knocks them down,
Scatters my village to and fro.

I’m mad! What can I do?
I’m sad because of you.
Egad, I think it’s time to be brave.

I’m going to think about what I want to say,
Walk right up and say it.

Keep my hands out of the way.
Keep calm, breathe in.
Keep calm, breathe out.
Keep calm.

“Dameon, that makes me mad. Please don’t do that again.”

I’m sitting at the table making a kite.
The teacher is telling us what to do.
I’m listening to the steps on how to do it right.
But she’s on number three and I’m stuck on two.

I’m scared stiff! Oh, this feels bad!
What if the teacher’s mad?
Makes no difference ‘cause it’s time to be brave.

Chorus

“Mrs. Broderick, I’m confused.”
“Here, let me help you with that.”

Did you get in trouble?
Did you make too much noise? (“Too loud, too loud!”) “Tony, come here on the double!”
Think about if you did what your teacher said to do.
If you made a bad choice, I think it’s time for you
To accept the consequence. Oh, oh, accept the consequence.

Did you make a bad choice?
Do you wish that you hadn’t?
’Cause if you’d made a good choice
Then you wouldn’t be saddened.
Think about if you did what your teacher said to do.
If you made a bad choice, I think it’s time for you
To accept the consequence. Oh, oh, accept the consequence.

Instrumental

Take a deep breath and count to five—1, 2, 3, 4, 5.
Think about what you’d do next time.
You can say “I’m sorry. I made a bad choice. Next time I’ll do better. I’ll make a good choice.”

Oh, oh, accept the consequence.

Would you like to share?
To share with me?
Would you like to share?
To share with me?
Would you like to share?
To share with me?

“Would you share your paints again?” “Not right now.” “Maybe, I’ll play dress-up then.”

Would you like to share?
To share with me?
First I’ll think about what I want you to share.
Then ask if it’s ok— “Will you share?”
I won’t shout. I’ll use a friendly voice,
Then listen to what you say.
Would you like to share?
This song with me?
Would you like to share?
This song with me?
We could start with you and me.
Add another, we’d have three.

You want to share it, to play with the cow.
I’ve got a puzzle, a barnyard puzzle.
You want me to Share it right now.
Ho Hum, do I want to share it?
Tweedaly Dum, do I think I could bear it?
Ho Hum, do I want to share it?
“Could you find something else? I want to do it myself.”
I’ve got a puzzle, a barnyard puzzle.
You want to share it. You just want the cow.
I’ve got a puzzle, a barnyard puzzle.
“No, I do not want to share right now.”

I’ve got some blocks,
Some really fun blocks.
I’ve got some blocks
And you want to play, too.
I’ve got some blocks,
Some really fun blocks.
And you want me to Share them with you.
Ho Hum, do I want to share them?
Tweedaly, Dum, do I think I could spare them?
Ho Hum, do I want to share them?
“Yes, I think I do. I’d like to share them with you.”
I’ve got some blocks,
Some really fun blocks.
I’ve got some blocks
And you want to play, too.

Core Knowledge Social Skills

Lyrics of “Using a Friendly Voice” from Core Knowledge Social Skills CD:

I like to use my friendly voice.
I get a lot more smiles.
I find that it’s a real good choice
to say what I say in a happy way.
I like to use my friendly voice.
I get a lot more smiles.
And when I use my friendly voice,
I’d have to say, it brightens up my day!

When I see Mr. Mack, dressed in black, I could say,
“Hello.”—Oh no!
Or I could change my voice to make a pleasant noise and say,
“Hello!”—Way to go!

Chorus

When I see Miss Sue,
Dressed in blue, I could say,
“Hi.”—Oh my!
One good choice,
Put a smile in my voice,
And say,
“Hi!”—Easy as pie!

Instrumental

THINK about what you want you want to say.
LOOK at the person that you want to talk to.
FOLD your hands in your lap,
And say what you say in a happy way.
Then, “Hi, I’m fine” . . . could be . . . “Hi, I’m fine!”
And “See you later” could be “See you later!”
